Radin Capital Partners hired to manage international small caps for New York State Common Retirement Fund through FIS Group's emerging manager program

December 2017

Radin Capital Partners is pleased to announce that it has been entrusted with an international small- capitalization equity mandate by the New York State Common Retirement Fund, the third largest public pension plan in the U.S. with U.S.$192 billion in assets held in trust, through the FIS emerging manager program.

About Radin Capital Partners

Radin Capital Partners specializes in international/global small-capitalization equities with a focus on classic opportunistic value investing. We are an independent and employee-owned investment management firm that strives to generate outstanding capital appreciation over the long term. We serve institutional asset allocators, manager-of-managers and other institutional investors who prioritize performance and wish to prudently exploit market inefficiencies.

Radin Capital believes that one of the most inefficient areas in the global investment universe – with its bigger opportunity set, cheaper valuations, better growth potential, poor coverage and less liquidity – is international/global small-cap equities. We specialize in this niche asset class and strive to exploit pricing inefficiencies over the long term.
